Striker Systems, Division of Computer Design, Inc. ("Striker Systems") grants you a nonexclusive, nontransferable license to use this program (the "Software") and its manual and other accompanying material ("Documentation") on equipment owned by you or under your control, subject to the license type, number of licenses, and other terms identified in your applicable quotation, order, or license authorization and subject to the terms and conditions of this Agreement.

Standalone License: If the Software is licensed as a standalone license, the Software may be installed and used by an authorized user in accordance with the license quantity purchased. Except as expressly permitted under the Additional Installation provision below, a standalone license may not be simultaneously used on more than one computer for each standalone license purchased.

Network/Floating License: If the Software is licensed as a network or floating license, the Software may be installed on multiple computers owned or controlled by you and made available to authorized users within your organization. The number of users simultaneously accessing or using the Software may not exceed the number of network or floating licenses purchased. You may maintain the license authorization or license-management components on a network server or other system approved or supported by Striker Systems. Network or floating licenses may not be made available to persons or entities other than you and your authorized users unless expressly approved in writing by Striker Systems.

Educational Version: If this Software is an Educational Version, you may use it only for the purpose of training and instruction, and for no other purpose. Educational Versions of the Software may not be used for commercial, professional, or for-profit purposes.

Evaluation Version: If this Software is identified as a demonstration, evaluation, or NFR version, you may use it only for the purpose of commercial evaluation and demonstration. You may not use it for commercial, professional, or for-profit purposes.

Backup Copy: Regardless of which version of the Software you have acquired, you may make one archival (backup) copy of the Software. Such archival copy may not be installed on another computer, unless such computer is a partitioned drive of a server to which only the authorized user has access. In any event, the archival copy may not be used or installed as long as another copy of the Software is installed on any computer. If the Documentation is in printed form, it may not be copied. If the Documentation is in electronic form, it may not be duplicated electronically; however, you may print out one (1) copy, which may not be copied.

Additional Installation (Standalone Licenses Only): Except with Educational, Student and Evaluation Versions, if the Software is licensed as a standalone license, you may make a second copy of the Software on the hard disk of a second computer owned by you or under your control provided that (1) the original and second copies are used only by the same person; (2) the second copy is installed and used only on a notebook computer, home computer, or other non-server computer away from your usual work location for the purpose of enabling you to perform work while away from your usual work location; (3) only one of the Software copies is in use at any one time; (4) the second copy is activated or authorized in accordance with Striker Systems licensing procedures; and (5) the Software is not licensed and/or labeled as an Educational Version.

Within such one hundred twenty (120) day period of installing the New Version: (i) you must cease all use of the Previous Version and uninstall all copies of the Previous Version; and (ii) destroy all Striker Systems materials relating to the Previous Version or, upon request by Striker Systems, return all such Striker Systems materials relating to the Previous Version to Striker Systems or the company from which they were acquired. Striker Systems reserves the right to require you to show satisfactory proof that all copies of the Previous Version have been uninstalled and all Striker Systems materials relating to the Previous Version have been destroyed or returned. If you have purchased a Technology Assurance Program membership, you may have additional rights under the Technology Assurance Program and the obligations in this section may not apply to you during the term of the Technology Assurance Program membership.

Authorization Code: If this Software requires an authorization code or other license credential, you must register your purchase of this Software with Striker Systems before the required authorization is issued, and Striker Systems shall maintain your registration details. Loss, theft, failure, replacement, or destruction of a computer on which the Software is installed does not by itself terminate your license rights. Subject to verification of your license and compliance with this Agreement, Striker Systems will reasonably assist you in reactivating the Software on a replacement computer. You are responsible for discontinuing use of the Software on any previous computer if that computer remains accessible.

License Term: Subject to the terms and conditions of this Agreement, the license to use the Software is perpetual, unless the Software is designated as a fixed-term license, a limited duration license or a rental license, and in such case the term of the license shall be the term for which you have paid.
